FREDERICK COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

After 34 Years of Service, Sheriff's Executive Assistant Sophia Comert Retires

2026-11-20 Source: Frederick County Sheriff's Office

FREDERICK, Md. (November 20, 2026) – The Frederick County Sheriff's Office announces the retirement of Sophia Comert, Executive Assistant to Sheriff Chuck Jenkins, following 34 years of dedicated service to the citizens of Frederick County.

Sophia began her career with the Frederick County Sheriff's Office in 1992, as an Administrative Specialist assigned to the Records Section.
In that role, she performed clerical duties including data entry of traffic citations and file management before assuming responsibility for warrant processing.
At the time, the Sheriff's Office operated from the second floor of the Work Release Center on Marcie's Choice Lane, which now serves as the administration building for the Frederick County Adult Detention Center.

In 1997, Sophia was promoted to Records Supervisor, overseeing both the Records and Warrants Sections.
During her tenure in that position, she played an important role in the agency's first Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) accreditation process.

Her career continued to advance in 2001 when she was promoted to Administrative Assistant to the Chief Deputy and Internal Affairs. In October 2006, Sophia was appointed Acting Executive Assistant to the Sheriff.

Following Sheriff Chuck Jenkins' election, she was permanently appointed to the position and would go on to serve as his Executive Assistant throughout his entire tenure as Sheriff.

Over the course of her distinguished career, Sophia worked for three Frederick County Sheriffs, providing steadfast support through changing administrations and helping ensure the continuity of operations at the Sheriff's Office.
Her professionalism, discretion, attention to detail, and deep institutional knowledge made her an invaluable resource to command staff and employees throughout the organization.

"It has been a true pleasure to have Sophia as my Executive Assistant throughout my entire 20 years as Sheriff," said Sheriff Chuck Jenkins.
"She has been my right hand, the gatekeeper, and the 'straw that stirs the drink' within the executive command of the Sheriff's Office.
I was fortunate to select Sophia as my Executive Assistant when I was sworn into office in 2006, already knowing her commitment and dedication to this agency.
Over the past 20 years, she has consistently demonstrated her unwavering loyalty to both this office and the Office of Sheriff.
She understands the importance of constituent services and the need for a Sheriff to remain accessible to the citizens he serves.
Her professionalism, institutional knowledge, and dedication have been invaluable to me and to this organization.

Image courtesy of Frederick County Sheriff's Office.

I wish her nothing but the very best in retirement and hope she enjoys spending as much time as possible with her grandchildren. Sophia is the gold standard for Executive Assistants in local government."

As she concludes her career, Sophia leaves behind a legacy of professionalism and commitment that has helped shape the Frederick County Sheriff's Office for more than three decades.

FREDERICK COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

FCSO Announces Retirement of Chief Deputy Colonel David Benjamin Following 40 Years of Distinguished Service

2026-11-20 Source: Frederick County Sheriff's Office

FREDERICK, Md. (November 20, 2026) –The Frederick County Sheriff's Office announces the retirement of Colonel David Benjamin, Chief Deputy of the Frederick County Sheriff's Office, concluding an extraordinary law enforcement career spanning 40 years of dedicated service to the citizens of Frederick County.

For the past 20 years, Colonel Benjamin has served as Chief Deputy under Sheriff Chuck Jenkins, helping lead one of Maryland's most respected law enforcement agencies.

Since becoming Chief Deputy in 2006, Colonel Benjamin has overseen the day-to-day operations of the agency's law enforcement and corrections bureaus, providing leadership, strategic direction, and operational oversight for the Sheriff's Office.

Colonel Benjamin's career began in 1978 with the United States Air Force, where he served as a Security Police officer until 1982. Following his military service, he worked with the Mount St.

Mary's University Campus Police and the Department of Defense Police from 1982 to 1986.

In 1986, Benjamin joined the Frederick County Sheriff's Office as a lateral transfer from the Taneytown Police Department.

His first assignment was in courthouse security before moving into civil process service and later patrol operations.

As his career progressed, he served in numerous specialized and leadership roles, including Internal Affairs and the Frederick County Narcotics Task Force.

Benjamin was also an original member of the Frederick County Sheriff's Office Special Services Team, graduating with academic honors from the Anne Arundel County SWAT School.

"It has been my professional pleasure to have Colonel Dave Benjamin serve as Chief Deputy throughout my entire tenure as Sheriff," said Sheriff Chuck Jenkins. "Having worked for then-Lt.

Benjamin as a patrol deputy and criminal investigator before becoming Sheriff, I selected him to serve as Chief Deputy because of his dedication, broad range of command experience within the agency, and unwavering loyalty to the Sheriff's Office and the men and women who serve here.

As Chief Deputy, Dave has played a key role in helping guide my decisions over the past 20 years within both the Corrections and Law Enforcement Bureaus.

He has been a cornerstone and steadying force within the Office of Sheriff throughout his more than 40 years of service.

Dave demonstrated a level of loyalty rarely seen when he stepped up to briefly fill my role in 2023.

Over the years, Dave has become a true friend in addition to being a trusted professional partner. Both relationships are important for success at this level.

He is well-respected throughout the ranks of this agency and has been one hell of a wingman to me over the past 20 years.

Most importantly, he has remained fully committed to the citizens of Frederick County throughout his career.

I thank Dave for his friendship, leadership, and service, and I wish him and his family nothing but the very best in retirement."

Colonel Benjamin's career has been defined by professionalism, integrity, and a commitment to mentoring future leaders.

His influence can be seen throughout the organization in the deputies, correctional officers, civilian staff, and command personnel he has helped develop over the years.

As he begins a well-earned retirement, the Frederick County Sheriff's Office extends its deepest gratitude to Colonel Benjamin for four decades of faithful service and wishes him continued health, happiness, and success in the years ahead.

County Executive Announces Leadership Transitions

2026-11-20 Source: Frederick County Government

FREDERICK, Md. – Frederick County Executive Jessica Fitzwater today announced Victoria Venable will serve as Chief of Staff, effective December 7, succeeding Pat Murray.

"Victoria Venable is an incredibly effective leader with deep roots in Frederick County, and she will hit the ground running on day one in her new role," County Executive Fitzwater said.

"She understands the opportunities and challenges local governments face, and she has the experience and judgment to lead the office as we begin our second term."

Venable will oversee Executive Office operations and support the implementation of the County Executive's policy and operational priorities. She currently serves as Director of Government Relations, where she led the County's advocacy for U.S.

15 improvements and school construction investments, secured over $10 million in state funding for Frederick County Government's capital projects, advanced legislation to combat human trafficking, and supported policy initiatives to strengthen Frederick County's economy and improve quality of life.

Venable earned her Master of Public Policy from Oregon State University and her Bachelor of Arts from Washington College. She is a graduate of Linganore High School.

Murray served as Senior Advisor to the County Executive from December 2022 to December 2023, where he managed the 130-member Transition Team and drafted its report, which included over 60 policy and programmatic recommendations.

Winchester Hall • 12 East Church Street, Frederick, MD 21701 • 301-600-1100 • Fax 301-600-1050

He returned as Chief of Staff in June 2024, where he has overseen the County Executive's communications, community engagement, and policy work, and managed special projects.

He has served as a part-time lecturer at McDaniel College since 2014, and he will transition to a full- time teaching role in January.

Murray earned his Juris Doctor from the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from Swarthmore College.

Frederick County Installment Purchase Program Reaches 25,000 Acres Permanently Protected

2026-11-20 Source: Frederick County Government

FREDERICK, Md. – Frederick County has reached a major land preservation milestone by permanently protecting more than 25,000 acres of farmland through the Installment Purchase Program (IPP).

To date, the IPP has preserved 25,132 acres across 175 farms.

"Frederick County's agricultural industry is a cornerstone of our economy, heritage, and identity," said County Executive Jessica Fitzwater.

"Preserving more than 25,000 acres through the Installment Purchase Program is a remarkable achievement that reflects our commitment to supporting farm families, protecting farmland, and ensuring that agriculture remains a vital part of our community for generations to come."

Three IPP settlements completed on November 19, permanently preserved an additional 175 acres bringing the total preserved land in the IPP over 25,000 acres.

This includes 58 acres in Lewistown, 65 acres in Walkersville, and 52 acres in Johnsville. Each property is now protected by a permanent agricultural preservation easement.

Installment Purchase Program Preserves 25,000 Acres

The Installment Purchase Program was established by the Board of County Commissioners of Frederick County in 2002. The IPP purchases agricultural preservation easements that permanently restrict development on prime farmland and woodland.

Funding for the IPP comes from a dedicated revenue source — a percentage of local recordation tax collections.

This dedicated funding enables the County to accelerate farmland preservation goals and safeguard the agricultural resources that are vital to our economy and heritage.

The IPP is one of several preservation programs managed by the Frederick County Office of Agriculture. Collectively, the programs have preserved 79,236 acres.

In 2024, County Executive Fitzwater announced an increase to the agricultural preservation acres preserved goal from 100,000 acres to 160,000 acres by 2051.

More information about the Installment Purchase Program is available on the Office of Agriculture website at www.FrederickCountyMD.gov/IPP.
